The time and energy spent building the relationship between a horse and a person can be life changing.

All too often our veterans come home to find new challenges of adjusting to civilian life while dealing with the physical and emotional scars from their experiences during active duty. This program is designed to offer veterans an alternative activity to help ease their transition to family and community - at no cost to them.

TEC is looking for veterans to participate in the program; as well as, volunteers. Come out to the Open House to learn more or visit:
